OLIVER CLASSES HIS OPPONENTS AS THUGS

who could be induced to believe that by waving his hat for Oliver he might secure some personal favor in the future, had been brought in. That gratitude which is a lively sense of good things to come, was apparent on every hand. The political pressure which has been brought to bear in the country districts, through the civil service, and other agencies, was perhaps a little too potent. Barney Gosper's verses, delivered "as there were no ladies present," and not for publication in later, as the gentleman explained, and Barney's prominent and embarrassing appearance upon the platform, and the marshaling of the army of civil servants under the banner of the minister of the interior for the street parade, placed the Oliver committee in a quandary. The work of the Oliver press-rank among the government officials, took on for too obstructive a character. Oliver's committee were, however, powerless. Having called in the aid of employees looking for promotions and favors of every description, the committee were compelled to stand by while these ambitious officials rivaled one another in their expressions of loyalty to Frank Oliver.

Committee Appointed

The meeting was called to order shortly after 3 o'clock by Senator Talbot, and after G. Ross Palmer had been elected secretary, the committee on credentials, resolutions and organization were struck off by W. Gariepy, Frank Smith and Henry Bell, and endorsed by the gathering as follows: Committee on organization—J. M. Macdonald, J. Dache, T. J. Alexander, S. J. McQueen, J. J. O'Connell, Committee on resolutions—Alex. Stuart, Travis Barker, H. Lee, T. Bell, D. H. Fraser, A. T. Cushing, W. Gariepy, S. A. G. Barnes, P. Kelly, E. Baldwin, Alfred Waite, J. E. McConnell, R. E. Bannerman, Wm. Pickard, Alcibiades Lamoureux, M. Hogan, Stewart, (Sturgeonville), Geo. Wellburn, Abot, Lewis, Chas. Parsons.

Committee on credentials—Wm. Macdonald, Wm. Clark, O. Tessier, T. H. Wilson, H. Bell, O. Gennett, G. B. O'Connor, Jacob Miller, C. R. Palmer. Brief speeches in support of Mr. Oliver were delivered by J. L. Cole, H. W. McKenney and others. Mr. Cole declared that the minister of the interior had always placed himself to the advancement of the interests of the north while H. W. McKenney, the member of the provincial legislature for the constituency of Pembina, declared that he had always found Oliver an honest man, in an experience extending many years. McKenney gave Oliver credit for the Grand Trunk Pacific line policy of the Dominion government. This policy had been the making of Edmonton, and Oliver was the man whom this city had to thank for her present strategic position and her future destiny as the greatest railroad centre in the west.

Stanley Jones Stanley Jones of Calgary prophesied a victory for Van Wart, the Liberal candidate in the southern city. The two southern seats were as good as won today. Mr. Jones declared that the old jealousies between north and south had passed away, and that anything that would make for the development of the north would receive support from southern people. Calgaryans were thoroughly satisfied with Frank Oliver. They were sorry that a Calgary man had been responsible for the attack upon the minister of the interior. Calgaryans knew and respected Oliver. They knew the other man.

L. Boudreau Liberal differences in the constituency had passed away, said L. Boudreau, M.P. Oliver would have the unanimous support of the Liberals of Edmonton. The past must be forgotten. He proclaimed that the Liberals of the constituency would present an united front on polling day. J. A. Macdonald followed with a short speech in eulogy of Oliver.

George B. O'Connor George B. O'Connor was then called up to assist in the whitewashing process. To the people who have denounced the minister of the interior for the acceptance of bribes, he replied in the "You're another" strain. People who were so deeply concerned about their neighbors could not be too clear themselves. In his election campaign, Mr. O'Connor exhausted his stock of superlatives. Frank Oliver was "the most honest man in the northwest territories," and his supporters entered the campaign possessed of the three essentials for political success—a popular and honest candidate, a good cause, and a good and not corrupt organization. Attacks which had been made upon Mr. Oliver had been directed by people who had no right to gripe.

Mr. O'Connor claimed that in the policy of reciprocity the Liberal party had the best policy of any party that had ever appealed to the people of Canada for a vote of confidence. The talk of disloyalty was "ally." The people of this country were not going to be swayed by talk of that character. He concluded with an appeal for a strong organization. "The primary essential is that the vote goes to Mr. Oliver. If you don't get out and work there is a great danger that we shall have a sufficient number of votes for him on election day."

After a short address by John A. Macdonald, the report of the committee on credentials was received. According to this report 111 delegates and five proxies from the district, and 113 delegates and six proxies from the city, were in attendance at the meeting on a total of 230.

Senator Talbot

The Senator Talbot took the floor. He carefully avoided all reference to scandals in which Oliver has become involved, confining himself to the issue of reciprocity. The most enthusiastic conventions held during the present election campaign, were, said he, those of Calgary and MacLeod. These two constituencies in the south he felt confident would be carried.

The resolutions which are here reproduced were adopted by the meeting, only the first, expressing confidence in Sir Wilfrid Laurier and endorsing reciprocity, on the motion of Alex. Stuart, R.C. and D. H. Fraser, the second, expressing confidence in the minister of the interior by A. T. Cushing and Robert Lee.

Resolutions Adopted

"Resolved that the Liberals of the Edmonton Federal district assembled in convention on this 29th day of August, 1911, in the City of Edmonton, hereby express our unbounded confidence in the Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier, his loftiness of motive, his sound judgment and untiring energy; he has done much to make the various elements composing the people of this vast Dominion, and has made Canada stand forth as the greatest of the organized nations which are proud to form our great British Empire."

"We believe in and continue to subscribe to the principles of Liberalism enunciated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and as well illustrated by his successful negotiations for an honorable reciprocal agreement with our great Southern neighbor which must contribute greatly to the prosperity of our country."

"Resolved that this convention express its entire confidence in our representative the Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior. Mr. Oliver has been identified with the Edmonton district for thirty-three years. He has been our representative in the Legislative Assembly of the N. W. T. and later in the House of Commons for many years. During the last six years he has held the high and responsible position of Minister of the Interior which department has to do with the administration of Western affairs. In his private business life as well as in his public career Mr. Oliver has earned a reputation for sterling integrity and high character which commands the respect and confidence of the whole country. He is our outstanding public man in the province of Alberta, and has done more to advance the interests of this district and province than any other man in public life. The rapid railway development in the west, the active immigration policy of the department of interior and in general, his progressive administration of the government in the country is largely due to the earnest and able work of our member. He is therefore entitled to the active support especially of every Liberal in the district and of every citizen who has the interests of the country at heart."

Oliver Nominated

W. T. Henry was the man selected to nominate Oliver. The motion found a scoundrel in Frank Smith of Spruce Grove.

"The convention has nominated you as Liberal candidate. To you accept?" enquired Senator Talbot. Oliver nodded the platform.

Hon. Frank Oliver "Accept?" exclaimed Mr. Oliver, appraising the joke. Of course he would. He accepted the nomination in the same spirit as that in which it had been offered.

"I feel a great sense of pride and gratification," he went on. "If there is one thing I could have wished for it is to receive such an expression of confidence from my fellow citizens on the occasion."

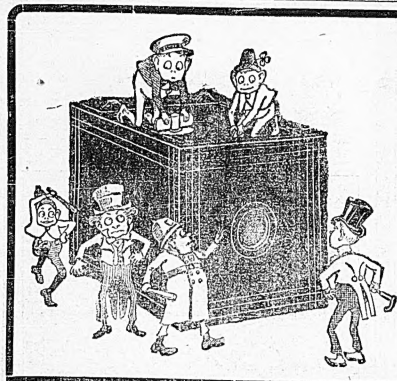

But the speaker was not present to deal with personal, but with national matters. It had afforded him gratification to discover that from the northern portion of the province to the international boundary, wherever a convention had been held, there had been "just one voice as to who should be the candidate," the character of the conventions indicated that the people of the province were of one mind on the issue of reciprocity. "We are here for the good of the country, for the progress of the country for the purpose of supporting a policy that will be for the lasting benefit of this land."

Mr. Oliver said that he had been in the service of the people of the Edmonton constituency for a very long period. He had always done the best he could. All that he had of money and ability he would again be willing to give in the benefit of the people and credit to himself.

Appeals for Organization

The Minister seemed to realize the nature of the conflict which he had entered, more, perhaps, than any of his followers. He made a desperate appeal for organization and more organization, and more organization, expressing fears that his supporters might be too confident as to the outcome of the

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS CLASH OVER HONORS

Speaker Clark Ignored in Party Causes While Underwood Is Prime Favorite—Result Missouriian Is Very Wrathful—Booming Underwood as Presidential Possibility

(International News Service)
Sidney Espey.
Washington, Aug. 30.—There is no doubt rivalry over the house leadership between Speaker Champ Clark and Chairman Oscar Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee. This centers in the ambition of each to be president of the United States.
In the beginning of this Congress there seemed to be no obscuring aspirations between these two democrats. The name of the new speaker was on every lip, and he appeared to tower infinitely above the heads of his associates from Alabama.
But times have changed. It has developed that under the new rules of the house, the Speaker is nothing more or less than a figure head. No power or influence is attached to the office. There is some glory in presiding over the lower house of Congress, but there is little for the Speaker to do aside from ruling upon parliamentary questions.
All this has tended to obscure Speaker Clark. He has had no committee to appoint, and therefore no real body of representatives under obligations to him.
He has no committees or individuals approach him and ask if this measure or that measure might come up for consideration. He had had but few requests for recognition from the floor, and a result he had been left to be ignored in carrying out the program of the party caucus.

All this, too, is in direct contrast with the power that entered in the speakership under Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois.

Speaker Very Powerful
At that time the speakership was regarded as the most powerful office in the government and exceeding the presidency. But that is past. When Speaker Cannon was shown of his great authority, Speaker Clark was shown by the same act.

On the other hand, Chairman Underwood has figured more prominently before the country during the extra session than has any other member of either branch. He has led all the tariff fighting. He has practically framed the wool, the cotton, and the free list bills. He put reciprocity through the house, and had, without the aid of the conference committee.

Incidentally, the Alabama man has developed real leadership, and as kept his Democratic majority squarely behind him throughout the whole session. This has given him a creditable reputation throughout the country.

Then came the Underwood presidential boom. It was initiated in Alabama, and for a time was regarded simply as a local effort to pay a compliment to a favorite son. Nobody outside Underwood's state seemed to take the matter seriously, and least of all was a serious view taken of it in Washington.

Clark With Bryan
When the Ways and Means chairman clashed with William Jennings Bryan, and when he was found to have practically every Democratic member of the house behind him in his fight, his presidential boom was given sudden and startling inflation. Politicians began to take notice of Underwood, and to estimate his chances for the presidential nomination.

As Speaker Clark's star waned, Underwood's grew brighter. It would have been human in the speaker to sit idly by, and see his lieutenant pass him in this fashion. He did sit still, however, in so far as appearance is concerned, but the session is but did not approve of the attack upon Bryan, and he said so to a number of his personal friends in the house.

Clark a Bryan Man
Clark has been a Bryan man many years. He was for Bryan when the Nebraska first jumped into fame, and has been consistent in his support of the Perseus leader. As a reward for this, current report has it that the speaker would receive Bryan's support for the nomination next year. Mr. Bryan even placed his O.K. on the Missouri statesman, which was taken to mean that the Bryan influence would be thrown to Clark, should the Missouriian be a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Naturally the speaker thought himself entitled to the support of the house majority in the nomination field. He had led the Democrats when they were in the minority, and now that they are in control of the house, he felt that he should command their support ahead of any other member of the body.

When he found the majority membership of the house taking the side of Underwood against Bryan, and found that the Ways and Means chairman was more potent in his leadership than the speaker had ever been, Mr. Clark was naturally displeased.

To add to the unfriendliness said to exist between the two Democratic leaders, word has come to the ears of the Clark leaders that a full fledged movement has been inaugurated by the Underwood people to capture most of the eastern votes in the National convention. An effort is being made now to divide the New York delegation, giving Underwood a share of the votes from that state.

Under the New York delegation should be united around some local man like Cox or Gurney, it probably will split where the convention meets. Mr. Clark will get some of them, Harmon will get some, and the proposition now is to give Underwood the remainder. This leaves Clark out of consideration entirely, in spite of the fact that his friends put him into the field as a presidential candidate months ahead of the first mention of Underwood for that honor.

TEMP'RANCE LEAGUE SECRETARY ARRIVES

CAMPAIGN AGAINST LIQUOR TRAFFIC WILL NOT BE OPENED TILL AFTER ELECTIONS

Although the temperance and moral reform league of Edmonton and Strathcona have secured the services of J. A. Ayer, for five years provincial inspector for the Ontario government in the liquor house branch, in anticipation of a vigorous temperance campaign throughout the district, no plans will be made, and no definite line of action decided upon until after the next election.

Such was the statement to the Capital this morning of Mr. Ayer's himself. His arrival in the city was quite recent, but the programme of reform which he expects to accomplish, or which he expects to assist, the local moral reformers in accomplishing, is, for the time being at least, must be less radical than the programme which has been laid down by many other members of the party.

"For the present," said Mr. Ayer, "we shall confine our activities solely to educational work. We shall seek to combat the evil of intemperance by moral suasion, and attempt to effect no radical changes—for the present," he remarked again to emphasize the importance of this proviso.

But although he does not favor temperance exercises, or any violent onslaught on the liquor interest, Mr. Ayer's made it abundantly evident that the ultimate aim of the league in the twin cities will be kept in view from the outset, and that the campaign of moral suasion, is expected to bear fruit at the polls.

The new secretary avowed that the fight would be carried on so far as he

CITY ASSESSOR LAYS DOWN RULING

MEN WHO TAKE OATH THAT THEY ARE TENANTS, AND ARE NOT, TO BE PROSECUTED

Every mother's son who registers under the Tenant's franchise act unlawfully will be prosecuted for perjury and sent to the penitentiary. City Assessor D. H. McMillan has so decreed. All registrations under the tenants franchise act are being scrutinized closely and the poll tax collector sent around to gather in the poll tax.

By this process, two registrations could not be found, no trace of them even. And so it looked very much as if the register of those who are to enjoy franchise this fall, had been hunched. Two young men had registered at the same address where they were known to. When the poll tax man failed to find them one of the assessors' men went in search, and returned with the same tidings. And this has resulted in an even more rigid examination and scrutiny of those registering under this act. Won into the man who deliberately trifles with the law, and an ill repute is being won. No quarter will be shown.

McLeod of the First Presbyterian church performing the ceremony.

SEE KEEPERS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—A large and representative attendance was present at the annual convention of the National Bee Keepers' association in Minnesota today. The convention sessions will last two days and will be devoted to the discussion of a wide variety of subjects relating to bee culture and bee production and marketing of honey.

It has been decided that Miss Nazimova will make her first appearance as a star under the management of Charles Frohman, September 21, in "The Other Mary," a new drama by A. C. Hays, a son of the late Prof. Hays of Columbia University. The cast will include Brandon Tynan, Malcolm Williams, Frank Goodsmith, William Hession, Lucie Moore and Grace Reals.

is concerned without animosity and without any attack upon the hotelmen as a class. "I have nothing whatever against the hotelmen," said he, "and have no use for personalities. I am, however, absolutely opposed to the liquor traffic. If personalities are introduced it will not be by me."

"Until after the federal election is passed, the leagues will not take any action. Interest is centered in the political campaign, and it would be futile to attempt to awaken any interest in other matters until after September 21."

A GROUP OF DENIALS. WHICH WILL HAVE TO COME

Editor Buchanan of the Lethbridge Herald rises to remark that he did not receive any money from any slush fund.

The difficulty about Editor Buchanan's denial is that it is contingent on the interpretation of the description of the source of the money he received. If he will kindly state that he did not receive $6,000 from Frank Oliver for the Lethbridge Herald he will place his denial in shape where it can be got at.

And while Editor Buchanan is doing that Editor Davidson of the Calgary Albertan might as well deny that he received $2,000 from Frank Oliver.

And John R. Boyle, leader of the insurgents, might as well deny that he received $3,000 from Frank Oliver.

And all three in union might deny that there was any understanding that they should oppose the Rutherford government's railway policy for the development of the north; that the programme for the wrecking of the Rutherford government was not inspired and directed by Frank Oliver.

These are a group of denials which will have to come sooner or later, anyway, and they might as well come in a bunch.

DANGER FROM FIRE CALLS FOR CAREFULNESS

Only good luck and an unusually wet season has saved Edmonton from disaster by fire during the days and weeks this summer that the water has been shut off. Citizens generally cannot be too careful with regard to fires and the police patrol should make it a special duty to see that backyards and lanes are kept clear of such rubbish as constitutes a danger.

Edmonton's fire brigade is one of the finest in the west. Edmonton's insurance rate is very low and Edmonton's system of fire protection is so good, when everything is working right, that citizens have come to regard the danger from fire as an almost negligible quantity.

But under circumstances like the present, when there is no water and the firemen would be powerless to stop a conflagration, the danger from fire is so great that no precaution to prevent the start of a blaze could be counted a waste of energy.

AMALGAMATION AND THE BASIS OF REPRESENTATION

The amalgamation agreement, as it will be submitted to the ratepayers, will contain one feature which it will be difficult for Edmontonians to reconcile themselves to.

Strathcona demands three representatives to Edmonton's seven on the council board, Strathcona retaining the right to vote for the other seven. To this there are three very salient objections. The first of which is that it practically introduces the ward system, the second of which is that it gives Strathcona representation out of all proportion to its population; and the third of which is that it practically hands over the control of the affairs of the two cities to Strathcona, providing only that Strathcona elects four members for two others besides the three guaranteed them.

The question of representation appears to have been the most difficult one for the amalgamation committee to agree upon, and the basis of representation finally agreed upon is evidently a compromise which the Edmonton members of the committee accepted rather than allow the whole scheme of amalgamation to go by the board.

And yet it seems that the committee were entirely blind to a great opportunity when they failed to suggest that the system of council of administration be thrown out altogether and a commission form of government substituted therefore.

Commission government has already proven itself in a hundred cities in the United States. Evidence of its success might have been secured at any time by a reference to Des Moines, Spokane, Galveston, Houston, Topeka or any one of twenty cities in the same class as Edmonton. Commission government is peculiarly adaptable to the circumstances in which Edmonton and Strathcona find themselves. Commission government offers the way out of the difficulties which surround council administration, which difficulties will only be accentuated by amalgamation. Amalgamation without commission government can scarcely be expected to prove a success. Amalgamation on the basis adopted by the committee is a failure before it starts.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

While there may be some shortage in the amount of water coming up from below these days, there is certainly none in the amount coming down from above.

It seems to be about as difficult for a tenant to get his name of the municipal voters' list as it is for the ordinary citizen to find the place where he could have something to say about the nomination of Frank Oliver.

Since positive denials have come into vogue, Frank Oliver might as well start his series off by denying that he sold $15,000 worth of Bulletin stock to the treasurer of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

REPUBLICANS MEET IN ALABAMA STATE

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 30.—The advance guard of delegates has arrived in Birmingham for the Republican state convention which will meet tomorrow to select a new state committee and chairman and to discuss preliminary plans for the next campaign. Harmony is the keynote of the gathering. The differences which have split the party for a long time past and which appear to have been smoothed over and it is believed the convention will be a harmonious affair.

The rivalry of the two opposing factions seeking control of the party probably will result in the selection of a compromise candidate for state chairman. The convention is expected to give a hearty endorsement to President Taft and his administration.

NUMBER OF ENQUIRIES REGARDING EDMONTON

Prominent Newspaper and Magazine Writers Turn to This District in Search of Material

Judging from the number of enquiries that are being received by Secretary Fisher of the board of trade for information regarding Edmonton and the surrounding district from prominent contributors to leading American and English magazines, this part of the Canadian Northwest is destined to be well advertised in the columns of these publications.

Just at present Mr. Fisher is preparing material for three magazine writers, two of whom have visited Edmonton this summer. Editor Flower, a well-known contributor to the Saturday Evening Post and other American magazines, was here last week and Mr. Fisher is sending him photographs and statistics demonstrating the growth of the district, to be used in a series of articles. William E. Curtis of the Chicago Record-Herald has also asked that photographs and information be forwarded to him for use in magazine and newspaper stories.

The third enquiry is Elmer E. Ferris of East Orange, New Jersey who is writing an article on the Canadian North West which will appear in the October or November issue of the World's Work.

An article from the pen of Mr. Ferris entitled "The Land of Law and Order" and dealing with conditions in Western Canada where order is maintained by the mounted police, appeared in the August number of the Outlook.

COMMISSIONERS' LIMIT POUNDKEEPERS' POWER

Sold Mayor Armstrong's $50 Canine for Three Simoleons and $400 Team for $50.

No animal whatsoever may be sold, or killed by the poundmaster in the future without an order from the city commissioners. Too much trouble has been causing from that particular feature of the police department. The latest is a letter from a firm of barbers claiming that the poundmaster sold for the sum of $90 one team of horses valued at $400. After the costs in the matter had been met the man owning the team received about $17, the remainder of the $90 being cash. His Worship, the mayor, could give expert testimony about the poundmaster's judgment, as a $50 dog belonging to the mayor, got in the pound and was sold for $25. So the wings of the poundmaster were this morning clipped by the authority to sell or kill any animal taken from him without an order from the commissioners.

NORWOOD NOT ON THE POUNDKEEPERS' SLATE

At Least Not Early in Morning, When Cows Are Wont to Inspect the Garden "Estate"

Because she was told that the poundmaster could not visit Norwood so early in the morning to gather in stock that was trampling her garden and causing her great damage, Mrs. Mary Macvey, residing at Norwood, through her solicitors, Gormack and Mackie, this morning laid a formal complaint before the city commissioners.

She claimed that herds of stock are wont to make depredations upon her property, making it impossible for her to maintain fences, walks, or gardens, and that complaint at the police department has brought no satisfaction, save the information that the time the stock visited her in the morning usually, was too early for the poundmaster to get around. Hence nothing could be done in the matter. This communication was referred to Commissioner Gandy to take up with the police department. A solution of the problem will probably be reached very quickly.

SNEEZE-FEST IS ON IN BETHLEHEM

HAY FEVER SAID TO BE THE MOST ORGANIZED DISEASE ON THE CONTINENT

(Union Press Service.) Bethlehem, N. H., Aug. 29.—Sneezers, for whom sneezing is a common interest, rounded up in this famous White Mountains resort today for the annual meeting of the United States Hay Fever association, which derives its name from the fact that all its members sneeze in June, July and August and as much longer as they are afflicted with hay fever outside of the regular hay-fever season.

Hay fever is not a pleasant disease, and it makes its victims suffer and destroys their good temper. But it is by far the best organized disease in America. So far as is known the jaundice sufferers have never held a convention, and no one has ever called a convention of those afflicted with indigestion or rheumatism. But for many years the hay fever victims have gathered here each summer to discuss their common troubles. Every member of the association pays annual dues of fifty cents, and this payment entitles him to receive all of the many pamphlets and other forms of literature that are issued each year on the disease and methods for procuring relief.

Hay fever is a disease of West Bridgeville, Mass., occupied the chair at the opening of the convention today. More than a score of States were represented in the attendance. The initial session was given over to a symposium discussion in which veteran sneezers and physicians told their associate sufferers of all the new discoveries in the line of remedies and preventives. Tomorrow the members of less experience will be given an opportunity to tell what they have learned about the ailment.

RATEPAYERS WILL VOTE ON AMALGAMATION, SEPT. 20

For Mr. Bellamy and Mr. Gowan did not go over that proposed driveway any too readily. But some explanations and explanations on the subject caused this provision to be passed.

And so the amalgamation agreement was dissected bit by bit and thoroughly digested by those who had not already done so, with the result that it is now past the city council of Edmonton and Strathcona as to agreement, and the bylaw providing for the voting upon the agreement will be passed by the two cities' councils immediately. The Edmonton council may pass its bylaw this evening.

Real Estate BULLETIN

The movement on Jasper avenue west still continues, and we do not hesitate to predict that the next few weeks will witness one of the largest turnovers of Jasper properties west of Ninth street ever before recorded in the history of this city.

The steady demand for properties through the past summer months in all residential districts of the city has laid a foundation for a real estate movement which is appealing alike to large and small investors. It is hardly necessary to state that this movement is increasing and that we are now in an era of prosperity the like of which has never before been known in this municipality.

STRATHCONA COUNCIL TO INTRODUCE BYLAW

RELATIVE TO AMALGAMATION OF TWIN CITIES—WILL BE PASSED AT NEXT MEETING

Strathcona, Aug. 26.—Notice of the introduction of a bylaw dealing with the amalgamation agreement was given at the meeting of the Strathcona council last night after a sharp dispute over the terms of the agreement. Several of the council members did not support the agreement, but Alderman Richards who took the opportunity of expressing his disapproval, the words aroused opposition from Alderman Rankin and a sharp wordy debate took place.

Alderman Richards wanted to know how many of the members of the council were at the meeting when the agreement was drawn up. After a short delay Alderman Rankin supplied the desired information stating that there were five of the ten Strathcona men present. Alderman Richards considered that the agreement was not properly drawn up there not being a majority of the Strathcona members of the committee present at the time it was made.

When that disagreement had been settled the council was uncertain as to how notice of the introduction of the bylaw would have to be given. The City Solicitor expressed the opinion that it would have to be given at one regular meeting and that the bylaw would be submitted at the next meeting. That was the course finally decided upon and the motion was formally given.

Petitions
A petition from Mrs. E. Seicht and others asking that a mud hole in Highland street be filled was referred to the public works committee. A petition from resident of Third avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets was referred to the sewer and water committee. Alderman Rankin reported that the bill road between Edmonton and Strathcona should be gravelled. He stated that debentures be issued for $2000 to do the work $1000 being spent on the Edmonton end and Wabamun at $500 p.m., arriving Edmonton 10:30. This change has been made to accommodate week-end commuters on account of Monday being Labor Day. Week-enders will have the privilege of going to Wabamun on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock train and remaining until Monday evening, on the regular week-end tickets.

Secretary Cox and Alderman Pollard reported on the deadlock caused by the failure of the Manley Construction Company to pay their men. It was stated that the city had advanced the required money. The report was adopted.

About eleven o'clock Mayor Armstrong telephoned over to ask how much property would have to be housed to extend Saskatchewan avenue to the city limits. The information was not at hand and the matter was laid over for further discussion.

ADJOURNED MEETING OF COUNCIL TONIGHT

Because the amalgamation agreement dominated all the time there was no other business than that considered at the meeting of the city council last evening and when the board adjourned it was until this evening. This evening the various cases propositions will be discussed, there being three corporation propositions and a municipal plant as a variety from which to choose. Other business that was to have been transacted at the regular meeting last evening will likewise receive attention this evening. Tonight promises a busy session.

PEACE RIVER COUNTRY IDEAL STOCK DISTRICT

The Peace River country will be known in the future, less as a purely wheat raising than as a stock raising territory, according to James Rutherford, a well-known land man of Victoria, B. C., who was in the city last evening, and who expects to bring into the Peace River large parties of settlers during the next few months. He is himself the owner of 26,000 acres of land near Halfway river, about 15 miles from Fort St. John.

Mr. Rutherford declared last evening that the Peace River country had enjoyed more favorable weather during the present season than central and southern Alberta. In the district in which his land is located, frosts have been unknown so far, only one or two light frosts have been experienced in the Grande Prairie country.
